

Benefits and Insurance Policy

article_id: hr-benefits-001 | policy_area: benefits | effective_date: 2024-01-01 | last_updated: 2024-01-01

1. Overview

This article describes health insurance coverage, enrollment windows, and how to file a claim.

2. Health Insurance Coverage

Plan Tier	Monthly Premium (Company-Paid)	Employee Contribution	Coverage
Employee Only	$450	$0	Individual medical, dental, vision
Employee + Spouse	$780	$120/month	Above + spouse
Employee + Family	$1,050	$210/month	Above + dependent children

3. Enrollment Windows

New employees may enroll within 30 days of their start date; coverage begins on the 1st of the following month. Outside of new-hire enrollment, changes are only permitted during the annual Open Enrollment period (November 1-15) or after a qualifying life event (marriage, birth/adoption, loss of other coverage), reported within 30 days of the event.

4. Dependents

Eligible dependents are a legal spouse and children under 26 years of age. Documentation (marriage certificate, birth certificate) must be uploaded to the HR portal within 30 days of adding a dependent.

5. Claims Process

Most claims are processed directly between the provider and the insurance carrier. Employees needing reimbursement for an out-of-network claim submit the provider's itemized statement through the Benefits tab of the HR portal; reimbursement is typically issued within 15 business days.

6. Frequently Asked Questions

- Can I add a dependent outside Open Enrollment? Only after a qualifying life event, reported within 30 days.
- What happens if I miss the 30-day new-hire enrollment window? Coverage cannot begin until the next Open Enrollment period, absent a qualifying life event.
- Is dental included by default? Yes, dental and vision are bundled into every tier.

7. Escalation

Disputes over a denied claim should first be raised with the insurance carrier directly; if unresolved after 30 days, escalate to the Benefits team via the HR portal.

Cross-Article References

- See Employee Leave Policy (2024 Edition) for parental leave, which runs alongside a qualifying life event under this policy.