1. Overview

This article describes Meridian Robotics' remote work policy: who is eligible, how many days per week can be worked remotely, and the approval process.

2. Eligibility

Employees in engineering, product, design, and support roles may work remotely, subject to manager approval. Roles requiring physical presence (manufacturing floor, hardware lab, on-site reception) are not eligible for this policy and should refer to their department's own attendance guidelines.

3. Remote Work Days & Core Hours

Eligible employees may work remotely up to 3 days per week. Remote work requests are submitted via the same HR portal used for leave requests, under "Time Off > Remote Work Request." Employees working remotely must remain reachable during core hours, 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM in their local time zone.

4. Equipment & Expenses

Meridian Robotics provides a one-time $500 home office stipend for eligible employees' first fully-remote quarter, covering desks, chairs, or monitors. Ongoing internet costs are not reimbursed. See the Expense Reimbursement Policy for the general claims process this stipend follows.

5. Approval Process

A remote work request is approved by the direct manager within the HR portal. Requests spanning more than 4 consecutive weeks additionally require sign-off from the department head.

6. Frequently Asked Questions

- Can I work remotely 5 days a week permanently? Not under this policy; that requires a separate fully-remote role designation approved by HR leadership, outside the scope of this article.
- Do remote days count against my leave balance? No, remote work and leave are tracked independently.
- What time zone do core hours use? The employee's own local time zone, not headquarters time.

7. Escalation

If a manager repeatedly denies remote work requests without stated reason, employees may escalate to their HR business partner for a policy-compliance review.
